Didsbury Wins Second Game From Rimbey

The second game for the play-off for the Intermediate Baseball Championship for Alberta was won at Rimbey today by a score of 6-1 in favor of Didsbury.

Batteries, Rimbey--Connolly, Connelly and Loyd, Didsbury--Studer, Keith and Clemens.

Score by innings:
Didsbury 1 2 2 0 0 0 1 2 0 8

A. Dawson and Vear Wood made three base hits, Clemens and Freeman, two base hits.

Didsbury will now have to play Medicine Hat for the finals.

Help For Cattle Raisers

OTTAWA, AUGUST 28th. The measures being taken by the government for the relief of the live-stock industry provide, not only advances by banks to enable farmers of ranchers to keep their stock, but arrangements will be made for suitably equipped ships for carrying cattle to Great Britain.

Deficiency Will Be Supplied

It is pointed out here that when the United States market began to absorb Canadian cattle, cattle ships from Canadian ports largely went off the route across the Atlantic. This deficiency will be supplied and provision made to take care of the trade. Hopes are still entertained that the embargo will be removed.

Will Advance Ten Millions

In the meantime, the advance to be made by the government is expected to be about $10,000,000, guaranteed by the government, which will be applied in furnishing either stock or fodder where either is lacking.

A conference was held in Ottawa this week between Sir Henry Brayton, minister of finance; Hon. Dr. S. P. Tisdale, minister of agriculture; C. A. Bogart, and Sir Frederick Willes Taylor, Sir John Aird, C. E. Neill, E. C. Pratt and J. P. Dill, officials of the Canadian Bankers Association, respecting the present unsatisfactory condition of the Canadian beef cattle industry. It was recognized that some special measures should be taken immediately for the protection of the ranchers, cattle dealers, cattle feeders and farmers. Owing to restricted market and a pronounced reduction in prices, Canadian cattle against all present be sold.

As a result of the discussion that took place, assurance was given by the bankers that all reasonable credit will be extended to deserving borrowers against livestock, especially with regard to renewal, and that no undue pressure be brought to bear for payments until a reasonable improvement in the market conditions has been made. This will apply to all districts in Canada. Calgary Herald.

The Didsbury Exhibition

Splendid weather and a big crowd greeted the nineteenth annual Didsbury exhibition last Wednesday, May 26th. It is safe to say that it was the best ever held here. It was especially the livestock branch. Ben Dipple, president of the association and he was delighted with the exhibition.

Mrs. Galtbrith, superintendent of fair, for the occasion, who was present, declared that it was the best fair he had seen in Alberta this year in the class to which Didsbury belongs. He was delighted with the showing made.

Such well known cattle breeders as Mr. Snyder, W. H. Lyons and Wm. Wilson, who have shown at the Calgary exhibition for many years, each had a fine string of cattle on exhibit, and carried off a large number of the prize ribbons.

The entries in almost every class were the largest on record, and although the farmers of the district are busy in the harvest fields they took a day off to bring in their exhibits, the result being that the attendance was as large as in previous years. The paid attendance was approximately 2,500.

The large increase in the number of entries in the livestock exhibits was one of the features. There were 53 entries in the cattle classes, as compared with 50 last year; 128 in the horses, as compared with 50 the previous year; and 101 in the poultry classes, as compared with 60 last year. This increase in the number of entries, which indicates increased interest in the fair, was a pleasing feature to the management.

Perfect Weather Conditions
Weather conditions were perfect. Judging of the exhibits commenced sharp at 11 o'clock and continued during the afternoon. At two o'clock the racing programme, which was a big attraction, was started. There were run off in record time to allow for fair visitors plenty of time to witness the full race between Didsbury and Rimbey.

A large detachment of Royal Mounted from the Morley reserve, who have been in attendance at all the fairs along this line, were on the grounds, and their uniformed ranks were interesting features of the fair. In the evening they put on a new show, which attracted a large crowd of interested spectators.

Manager Pleased
J. V. Berscht, manager of the exhibition, was highly pleased with the showing made in every class. "It was the best ever held here," he said "especially in the livestock branch."

Ben Dipple, president of the association and he was delighted with the exhibition. Mrs. Galtbrith, superintendent of fair, for the occasion, who was present, declared that it was the best fair he had seen in Alberta this year in the class to which Didsbury belongs. Natural Grandstand

The fair grounds at Didsbury are situated about one mile west of the town. The race track and show ring are placed at the very edge of a large bluff, which affords a natural grandstand and makes it possible for spectators to see both the races and the judging of the livestock at the same moment.

Disarmament and the Individual Citizen

The outstanding question in world politics today is disarmament—the reaching of some international understanding which will put an end to the feverish race between nations to outdo each other in the raising and equipping of enormous armies, the construction of great navies, the inauguration of powerful armaments, and the development of chemicals and the sciences along channels of destruction, and, with a cessation of such wholly and savage activities bring about an enormous lessening of the burden of taxation and the devotion of national resources to the improvement of the physical and educational well-being of the people.

Everybody is concerned in the consummation of such an international understanding, but the average man and woman nevertheless looks upon the problem of arriving at an agreement as being the sole business and responsibility of Governments and statesmen; in a word, of those for the time being in authority in their respective countries. As a result, the average man and woman takes only an academic interest in this outstanding question, and proceeds daily to think, speak and act in a manner which operates to make the realization of world disarmament extremely difficult.

With the defeat of Germany and the abdication of the Kaiser, the overthrow of Russian Czarism, the smothering of the Austro-Hungarian monarchy, and the breaking-up of the old Turkish Empire, the last remaining strongholds of old world militarism and autocracy came to an end. With the exception of Russia, which is still undergoing the birth pains of its new regeneration, the leading nations of the world are now under a democratic form of government. That is to say, the people are themselves the rulers and the authors of their own national fate. They, and they alone, can definitely and permanently decide upon national policy. Governments are the creatures of the people, and are controlled, made and unmade by the votes of the people. To an ever increasing degree, too, the women have an equal voice with the men in determining the fate of Governments and the national policies of their homeland. If the people once make up their minds that there shall be disarmament, that they will no longer pour out their hard-earned earnings to be used to supply machines of war, wherever they destroy their fellowmen, Governments will, because they must, obey.

There is, however, it must be admitted, a fighting instinct inherent in the whole human race. It cannot be wholly eradicated, nor would it be well for the race if it were. It is the instinct which leads the race to push ever onward and overcome seemingly insurmountable obstacles. It is the fighting instinct which makes for progress. But the time is long since past when that instinct should be so powerful as to result in a striving for mastery of others through the brutal, animal method of destruction—the employment of strong arm methods against the weak.

After all, what is one of the most fruitful sources of national ill-will, leading to the making of warlike preparations by one racial group of people against another? Is it not to be found in the pin-pricking policy which so many people thoughtlessly indulge in at the expense of the people of another race, color or nationality? The people of one country make ridiculous of the habits and customs of another. This is resented and a feeling of animosity and ill-will is engendered whereas a mutual recognition of each other's good qualities, which is just as easy of cultivation, would quickly develop a feeling of admiration.

The newspapers of a country quickly reflect the views and feelings of the people among whom they circulate. If there is a pin-pricking tendency among the people, it is not long before the press is engaged in it, and the sharp sayings of the press in one land are quickly seized upon by the press in another country, and soon a wordy warfare is on stirring up the passions and prejudices of one nation and people against another, and forever cultivating ill-feelings by taking up all the old quarrels and troubles of bygone years. Visitors from a foreign country are charmed and humiliated by careless remarks about their country, flag or people, and they return home muttering anything or nothing against the country in which such remarks were uttered. Thus, from comparatively trivial cause, there arise these national incomprehensions and distrust of other peoples which, when more difference of opinion occurs between two countries, are quickly fanned into a flame and a condition of public opinion created which makes it extremely difficult, if not impossible, for the Governments of the opposing countries to make necessary compromises in order to reach an amicable settlement. And it is against just such consequences that armaments are maintained.

The ordinary citizen can, therefore, do much to bring about world disarmament by merely keeping a close watch upon his tongue and by steadfastly refusing to indulge in, what is after all more or less senseless and usually entirely untrue, carping at and criticism of other nations, races and people.

ABLE TO DO HER WORK

After Long Suffering Mrs. Peasey Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Toronto, Ont.—"I suffered with irregular menstruation, was weak and nervous, and could not eat and had headaches. The worst symptoms were dragging, complaining, jobbing, and a feeling that I would go crazy and I thought I was going mad. I was in this condition for two or three years and could not work. I had been treated by physicians but received no benefit. I found one of your booklets and felt inclined to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I received the best results from it and now I keep house and go out to work and am like a new woman. I have recommended your Vegetable Compound to my friends and if these facts will help some poor woman use you as you please."—Mrs. J. F. Peasey, 387 King St. S., Toronto, Ontario.

Farmer's Wife Pays Debt Of Gratitude By Relating Experience

"If I could say just what it is in my heart to say about Tanlac, everybody who suffers like I did would go out and get a bottle of once," said Mrs. A. Pieper, wife of a well-known farmer living at Cottonwood, Sask.

"For years I had indigestion so bad that I couldn't eat a thing without suffering misery afterwards. Nothing agreed with me, and at times I was so bloated up with gas I would have awful smothering spells. My nerves were in a terrible state, and I was bothered a good deal with constipation. I also had violent headaches, and at nights slept so little I never felt like getting out of bed in the morning.

"Tanlac benefited me in every way and I feel like a different person now. I eat three hearty meals a day and never have a sign of indigestion. My headaches are gone and I sleep all night without waking, and when I get up in the mornings I am as bright and cheerful as I was when I was a girl. I feel I owe a deep debt of gratitude to Tanlac, and the only way I know how to repay it is to tell people about what it did for me."

Tanlac is sold by leading druggists everywhere.

Sodium Sulphate Deposit

Company Developed to Exploit Discovery Made Near Vainwright

A large deposit of sodium sulphate has been discovered on Baxter Lake, east of Vainwright. From analyses it appears that the lake itself is strongly impregnated with this chemical, while a test made at the lake's edge gave thirty-two per cent. sodium sulphate. A company has been developed to exploit the find.

Wreck Of Giant Dirigible A Most Terrible Mishap

Airship Collapsed When Flying a Thousand Feet Over City of Hull.

Hull, England.—Seventeen officers and men of the United States Navy, and twenty-seven officers and men of the British Navy, met death in the collapse of the great dirigible ZR-2, over the city of Hull.

Every one of the United States men on board the ill-fated craft perished, as far as could be ascertained.

Only five of the 49 who were making the trip in the dirigible prior to the vessel being turned over to the United States Navy, are known to have been saved.

The United States officers who started the trip include Commander Louis H. Masford, Washington; Lieutenant-Commander Emory Coll, Marietta, Ohio; Lieutenant Henry W. Hoyt, Clearwater, Fla.; Lieutenant Marcus H. Esterley, Washington; Lieutenant-Commander Valentine N. Bigg, Brynmawr, Ia.; and Lieutenant Charles G. Little, Newburyport, Mass.

The British losses include the famous air veteran, Brig. Gen. R. M. Maitland, Lieut. A. H. Swann, Lieut. L. C. Little, Lieut. R. S. Montague, Flight Lieut. Thomas, and all the other officers on board, except Lieut. Wann, the commander of the ZR-2.

Starting from Heydon, Tuesday morning on a test flight to Falmouth, the air aircraft had been aloft for 34 hours, at times in bad weather, and was returning to Pulham aerodrome at the time of the disaster, which constitutes the most terrible of its kind in peace times. The dirigible had been purchased by the United States from Great Britain.

While flying at about 1,000 feet over Hull, spectators saw the ZR-2 suddenly seemingly buckle amidships and plunge downward over the city and into the Humber River. One theory of the cause of the disaster is that while the ship's rudders were being tested, the giant craft took a sharp turn, which caused her framework to buckle, and that the explosion of a gasoline tank completed the tragedy of the air. The actual cause, however, never may be known. A rumor has been afloat for several days that the ZR-2 was structurally weak, but this was stoutly denied by all authorities.

As West Grows So Will East

Heavy Load of Taxation Carried By Small Population.

Every new settler in the Canadian West means at least one new job for someone in the Canadian East. Those who fear that an immigration campaign that would bring in settlers might add to the unemployment in Eastern Canada should bear this truth in mind. One in the West means at least one in the East.

The present immigration policy tends to ADD TO rather than subtract from the total of the unemployed in Canada. At present a small Western population is bearing the whole cost of the railways, telegraphs, Government and other public services in the West. It is admittedly a heavy load. Though these costs are reduced to a not bottom minimum, they take from the Western farmer, nevertheless, a comparatively large share of his total earnings. Sometimes, in bad crop years, he tends to become discouraged by many even-sharper cuts—abandon his farm, and when he does another life man must also be reported in the East.

But with more immigrants, more settlers, more farms, these overhead costs in the West are reduced. Ten people are paying the bill instead of one. A new crop does not matter so much. Their costs grow lighter in the only way costs can be lightened. Their numbers increase. Then purchasing power expands. And there is more employment in the East. The less an immigration is a step towards greater unemployment—not less. This cannot be too strongly emphasized.

Congestion Of Fruit In Okanagan

Season is Earlier and Prices are Lower.

Vernon, B.C.—With a lack of orders from the public trade, the early fruit harvest in the Okanagan has resulted in a congestion of fruit awaiting shipment. The season is at least two weeks earlier this year as the fruit belt, and the bulk of the orders are not coming in yet, probably because housewives have not got down to preserving. Prices, however, are lower this season and great activity at shipping warehouses is looked for in a very short time.

First Car of Wheat Arrives at Calgary

Shipped From Vernon and Graded No. 2 Northern.

Calgary.—The first carload of this season's spring wheat has arrived in Calgary. It was shipped by J. S. Galbreath and Sons, of Vernon, B.C., and consigned to Willard Cunningham and Co. It graded No. 2 Northern, and was sold at the Winnipeg cash close price of $1.77 1/2. It is stated that there are about 100,000 bushels of wheat this year in the Vernon district. Most of this wheat will find its way to Europe by way of the Panama canal.

Steamboating On Saskatchewan River In The Late Seventies

By O. G. MAS-ES (Little Clerk).

(Copyright)

The Hudson's Bay Company had with much energy and considerable expenditure placed two steamers on Lake Winnipeg, and several boats on the river above the Grand Rapids, and as this system was fairly successful for transportation of freight, it gradually replaced the Red River cart transport. Occasionally one of the river boats would reach Edmonton; twice I think in one season was the record of the North-West, which by the way, was the most successful craft of them all, carrying two hundred tons on an exceedingly light draft of water.

American captains and mates from the Mississippi and Missouri Rivers were employed exclusively, but our own natives speedily took to piloting and some of them became experts. The crews were all Indian, chiefly drawn from The Pas and Grand Rapids, but a few plain Indians from above Prince Albert would occasionally engage for a trip or two.

I was receiving and shipping freight in the summer of 1877 at Grand Rapids (Mr. Alex. Matheson, transport manager), and when loading the North-West on one occasion I noted the big fat Yankee mate who was standing on the deck at the gangway singing a rough chantie song to the Indians passing him heavily loaded; from one to two hundred pounds a man being the general load. Occasionally, to hurry matters, he would kick an Indian in the posterior while passing, and break forth into, "Come along! Come along! You sons of— Come a running!" and so on.

Amongst the Indians was a wild-looking big chap who hailed from Port Pitt, with a long plait of jet black hair hanging to his waist, wearing a broad belt of parchment bulala hide studded with brass tacks, and a big signalling knife, the shaft of which was decorated in the same way. His whole costume consisted of a cotton shirt, a pair of cloth leggings and a breechcloth. I saw this Indian's eyes flash as the mate was doing his kicking stunt, and thought he looked dangerous, so walking down the gangway I tapped Mr. Mate on the shoulder and warned him that this was not a piece of southern manners, but red Indians are dangerous men to monkey with. His reply was a stream of profanity. Let me attempt to the freight checking and he would hush the mate, and so on. I returned to the warehouse, and lent my eye on the mate. The big Pitt Indian had a heavy load placed on his shoulders, and down the gangway he went with his shirt fluttering in the breeze. He received a tremendous kick behind, and in an instant Mr. Mate was on his back and the Indian furiously stalling him. Several of us rushed to the rescue, and it took an all our time to hold the savage, who was in a mad fury, yelling that he had never been insulted before and only death could wipe out the stain. We noted some blood on the knife and thought it was all up with the mate, but fortunately he had managed to twist his body and dodge the knife and was only bleeding from scratches. Never was a man so changed. He was too scared to go back to his duty, as he felt certain either his opponent or the other Indians would kill him, and we finally had to ship him into Fort Garry by the lake boat. Gradually the Yankee mates were done away with and our steady Scotchmen replaced them. These, though slower, had the faculty of getting on well with the native crew.

Indians dislike profanity, and the Cree, whose language is generally understood throughout the north, have no swear words in their vocabulary. The captain of the Northcoast that summer was an artist in many strange oaths, and when these failed him in moments of emergency, down went his hat on the deck and on it he jammed with both feet. His desperate language had made trouble on several occasions, and he was warned to guard his speech. We had just loaded the Northcoast with 160 tons of freight for Prince Albert, working day and night as usual at the depot, especially as the water was steadily falling in the Upper River, and away she went. On the evening of next day arrived a canoe with a letter from the captain stating he was tied up with a strike and all his crew on shore. The chief of the canoe to me at once and try and settle the difference (as I had managed to do on other occasions), so within half an hour I was on my way up the river with an Indian and back canoe, and a heavy paddle ahead of me. The scene of the strike was at Chemungwin at the west end of Cedar Lake, and fortunately it being calm, we were able to make the long traverse safely and finally reached the straits. Captain — could hardly articulate for rage and every word was an oath. The poor fellow did not seem able to help it. I noted the men all sitting and smoking on the bank and waiting at the lower discomfite. I coaxed him into the cabin, and told him the situation was a serious one and he was liable to lose his job if he did not cool down. Well, he was helpless, so asked what I would advise and I gave him this ultimatum. (To be continued)

Tribute To Late Sir Sam Hughes

Parliamentarians Join In Sorrow Over Ex-Minister's Death

Ottawa.—Parliamentarians and public men from the Prime Minister down have joined in expressing their sorrow at the passing of Sir Sam Hughes, for years one of Canada's outstanding figures in political and military life. Right Hon. Arthur Meighen, the premier, paid the following tribute:

"A truly remarkable man has passed from us in the death of Sir Sam Hughes. His mind was alert and well informed. His heart was a dynamo of energy. Fear was something he knew nothing at all about; indeed, courage was his overmastering characteristic. It dominated his other faculties and directed his career."

"That he has done much for Canada and for the Empire is beyond me, one would dare to doubt. At a critical time, his equipment of talent and experience and his extraordinary personality combined to make a great service to this country for which all are grateful, and the memory of which will live as long as our history is read."

Premier Hughes To Visit France

Will Present Australian Flag to City of Amiens.

London.—Premier William Hughes, of Australia, has left London on his homeward journey. He will spend a week in France and will present an Australian flag to the city of Amiens and will also unveil a cross in honor of Australian soldiers who fell at Villers-Bretonneux in 1918.

In conversing with Reuters, correspondent, the Australian premier was unable to say whether he would return to the old country before long.

Hon. Mr. Sastry, who is the Indian delegate to the Imperial Conference, left London on the same train with Mr. Hughes, going to Geneva to attend the meeting of the League of Nations.

Winipeg Old-Timer Dead

Winipeg.—Robert Leckie, one of the thirty-six registered in the first Winnipeg directory, issued in 1876, is dead here, aged 70. He was born in Kincardine, Ont., and came to Winipeg in 1874. He established a decorating business which he conducted continuously until his retirement in 1919.

Forward Acceptance

Tokio.—Japan's acceptance of the invitation of President Harding to participate in the conference in Washington on Far Eastern question and disarmament, in November next, has been forwarded to Washington.

Say Germany Is Insulting Britain

G.W.V.A. Asking Government to Stop Influx of Booklets.

Ottawa.—That large quantities of German booklets, containing insulting references to Great Britain and the other allied nations, were being rushed into Canada, and that the price must cease immediately, were the opinions expressed by high officials of the Dominion Command of the Great War Veterans' Association. These booklets, it was alleged, were being received by persons in positions of authority and without the consent of the recipients. C. G. MacNeil, secretary of the Dominion Command, G.W.V.A., is taking the matter up with the government, and has forwarded a letter to the secretary of state asking for speedy action in terminating the influx of these pamphlets.

Indian Natives Riot

Seditious Agitators Cause Open Rebellion in Malabar District.

Bombay.—A grave situation has arisen in the Malabar district, on the west coast of British India, where seditious agitators have been working on the religious fanaticism of the ignorant natives.

Their activities have resulted in serious mass looting, bloodshed and destruction of property. Military forces have fired upon rioters, causing many casualties. Railway lines have been cut. Post offices have been robbed, and much loss is almost supreme in several small towns. One village, surrounded by a mob, has been repeatedly making desperate calls for help. Military reinforcements have arrived at Bangalore, capital of the district of Mysore.

A proclamation has been issued by the British officer commanding troops in the Malabar area. It refers to "open rebellion" prevailing in the district on "North Hound" 38 miles southeast of Calicut. Several murders have occurred, the victims including a military officer and a superintendent of police.

Russia May Have To Refuse Relief

Soviet Will Not Recognize Debts of Former Regime.

London.—Russia will be required to decline British and French financial aid, says the Pravda of Moscow, because these countries have agreed to assist only on condition that the Soviet Government recognize the debts of the former Russian regime amounting to several billion gold roubles. The Pravda, which is quoted in a Reuters dispatch from Riga, declares the Soviet Government would prefer to exhaust the resources of the treasury at a cost of 100,000,000 roubles rather than pay even the interest on these debts amounting to about 500,000,000 roubles.

First on the Appetite List

ONCE the crispness and charm of Grape-Nuts have been tested by the family, there's one item that stands prominently out in the marketing list thereafter.

That's Grape-Nuts.

The twenty hours of continuous baking have produced, from the natural richness of wheat and malted barley, a food that is uniquely sweet with sugar developed from the grains themselves, and whose crispness and flavor make a delightful appeal to every member of the family.

And Grape-Nuts is soundly nourishing—a great builder of health and strength.

Served with cream or milk, as a cereal for breakfast or lunch, or made into a pudding for dinner.

See that your marketing list includes this delicious, economical food, today. All grocers.

FALL RYE VARIETIES

At the present time we tend a great deal about the Fall Rye crop. The importance of this crop for general use in the Province of Alberta can scarcely be over-estimated. During the past few years it has given very striking proof of its superior quality when compared with other crops of every description. Some of the advantages of growing Fall Rye are as follows:—

From the work with the water requirements of some of the crops at Olds in 1920 it will be observed that Winter Rye shows up very well. This possibly is on account of growing in the cool of the Fall, and Spring when transpiration is reduced. Moreover, the Fall Rye attains its maximum development when the number of hours of sunshine is longest and therefore at a time when the greatest photosynthesis takes place. A further point is that Fall Rye is the most drought resistant and grows for a longer period than most crops and can, as a result, utilize a greater proportion of the annual precipitation.

Fall Rye forms a covering over the ground and prevents evaporation of the soil moisture. It also prevents wind drifting in the Fall and early Spring months.

It chokes out weeds by growing up quickly in the Summer after it is seeded and again in the early spring before the weeds start.

Fall Rye is a winter crop and suffers very little injury from the cold. This is because the crop develops before the season when rust appears in its most virulent form.

It suffers very little injury from cutworms and other insects. These insects may attack the crop to some extent, but rarely do any real damage. It is one crop that suffers very little from early Fall frosts in Central Alberta.

It furnishes very good pasture in the Fall and Spring months when other pastures are very poor.

By having Winter Rye as well as other grains, the man on the land finds himself in a position to do a maximum amount of work with his outfit of power, machinery and help. It distributes the seedling and harvest seasons over a long period of time and enables a man to do his own work with the least possible amount of extra help.

In a cropping system that includes Winter Rye, greater security is ensured against loss than is the case where it is not grown. Rye grows vigorously during May and June and may produce a fall crop in a season when Summer drought ruins Spring sown grains.

The average annual Provincial production of Fall Rye per acre is from two to three bushels more than the acre production of wheat.

Fall Rye may be cut for hay when feed is scarce. If cut early for hay it springs up a second time and gives good pasture or a second crop of hay.

Winter Rye sells for a price that is about on a par with the price paid for Durum Wheat. Winter Rye is also of very high feeding value for livestock. In this respect it compares favorably with Barley.

Objections Advanced Against Fall Rye

There are two objections advanced against the growing of Winter Rye. They are that the Rye is likely to get mixed with the wheat on the farm where wheat is grown, and seriously reduce its grade, and that the ergot in the grain and straw may cause losses when stock are fed on it. These are both minor objections that can be avoided: the former through the use of a proper rotation and the latter through the use of a rotation and careful seed selection.

Seed and Varieties

In growing Fall Rye care should be exercised in selecting seed. Seed that is acclimatized, clean and free from ergot should be sown. The results from the variety trials with Fall Rye at this station show conclusively that no variety has any superiority in hardness or yielding qualities over any other. The main point to consider is that the seed must be sound, clean and free from disease taint. The following table gives the results of the tests with Fall Rye varieties at this station in 1920:—

Rosen (Minstrel) 57 bu. per acre.
Common (Stone Brigs) 57.5 bu. per acre.

Dem. Farm 58.5 bu. per acre.
Rosen (Nabes) 57 bu. per acre.
This year's results are not yet available but we have reason to believe that the results will be very similar to those of a year ago. The motto from these results should be "Use good clean seed of any acclimatized variety, but do not pay more than a few cents above the market price for commercial rye for any seed not even Rosen Rye which is very much over boosted by certain interests."

Date and Rates of Seeding

Winter Rye should be sown between July 15th and August 30th. With the earlier seeding, use from thirty-five to forty-five pounds of seed per acre. With the later seed, i. e., dates coming after August 10th, use from forty-five to seventy pounds of seed to the acre.

The earlier dates of seeding are more certain to produce a good strong stand. The early seedling, however, produces a strong rank growth that makes a heavy drain on the soil moisture and sometimes causes a lighter yield of Rye the following year. With the later seedling a poor stand may develop and as a result the crop does not protect the ground very much. It is more likely to winter kill.

In sowing Rye the gauge is set as for Wheat. The seed should be put down to moisture and not less than two inches deep.

It is a poor practice to pasture the Rye crop closely in the Fall. When it is pastured closely in the Fall it is more liable to winter kill. A crop that has made a good strong growth in the Fall, if it was not pastured off, may be pastured in the Winter. Moderate Spring pasture may be allowed without seriously injuring the crop of grain.

THE DIDSBURY FAIR

Judged the heavy horses and gave entire satisfaction. Mr. Falls was formerly an old country horse breeder, and is considered a most efficient and competent official. He declared that although the entries in the classes were not so large as might be, that the Clydesdales, shires and Percherons which he judged were of a very good quality.

W. J. Fulkert won the ribbon in the two-year-old Clydesdale stallion class with a beautifully built animal, Bowden's Pride. In the purchased Shire stallion class, four years old or over, T. A. Murphy topped off the greater prize with Alberta's Champion (imported). Although Mr. Murphy's horse was beaten last year by L. G. Wrightsworth's horse he was able to come back this year and show a clean pair of heels to the same horse. Other winners in the stallion classes were Clydesdale—Sam McAllister, Charles Brown, R. C. Ray, Carstairs; Shire—L. G. Wrightsworth, Percheron—P. A. McKinnon and Sol, Wiegand.

There were a large number of entries in the registered heavy draft class of 1,500 pounds or over, and the prizes were pretty well divided. The following were the principal winners: Russell Fulkert, Mrs. Henry Collinge, Charles Brown, R. C. Ray, Carstairs; W. S. McKinnon, Olds; Sam McAllister, Wm. Morton, and W. D. Ross of Olds. In the heavy draft mare class Charles Brown, with Golden West Blossom, Percheron champion at the Calgary spring show, was an easy winner.

The men who carried off the honors in the agricultural class under 1,500 lbs. open to grades only, were as follows: Charles Brown, W. D. Ross, Otto Kleis, W. Thibault, R. O. Walt, John Butte, W. J. Fulkert. In the same class with horses over 1,500 lbs., the winners were John Butte, F. A. Follmann, W. D. Ross, Dan Dipple, George Dipple, W. J. Fulkert, J. W. Brown, Sam Van Wyck.

Driving and Saddle Classes

Considering the fact that the automobile has lessened the real value of the driving horse, the entries in this class were good. Mr. Rawlinson, of Inisfail, was the judge. The following were the prize-winners: R. C. Phillips, E. R. Walt, L. H. Leach, good, R. C. Ray, Carstairs; Leonard Borscht, Ed. Reider, Russell Borscht, Alvin Hunsberger, D. Sinclair, J. J. Devins, Carstairs; George Dipple, E. O. Walt.

The saddle classes were extra good with a large number of entries in each. The following were the winners: Norman Weber, Mrs. Lola Klitzke, James Hughes, R. C. Ray, Carstairs; J. J. Devins, Carstairs; R. C. Phillips, Leonard Borscht, Russell Borscht.

Cattle Exhibits Good

Perhaps the most gratifying feature of the livestock exhibits were the cattle exhibits. A large increase in the number of entries over last year made the competition very keen. A number of the breeders show annually in Calgary and they had the best of their stions entered at the Didsbury exhibition.

Sir Gairdner, a five-year-old Shorthorn bull owned by Ab. Snyder, of Didsbury, was an easy winner in his class. This animal is large and well built and is yet to be beaten at the Didsbury fair. Dale Chubb, of Inisfail, won the first prize in the Shorthorn classes were Wm. Wilson, S. Umbach, Carstairs, W. H. Lyons, James Shells, Charles Deardrick. Joseph Harey won the Shorthorn breeders' special contributed by the Alberta Provincial Shorthorn Breeders' Association for the champion Shorthorn bull, W. H. Lyons won the Shorthorn breeders' special for the champion Shorthorn female.

Both J. N. Patton and C. H. Stuart had the strings of Aberdeen Angus cattle entered and they about equally divided the prizes, with Otto Klein winning one third prize. That Didsbury is the chief dairying centre of the province was evidenced by the cattle which were shown in the dairy classes. In the Holstein class, Ed. Bostiger, M. Weber, A. LeClair and Wm. Morton were the chief winners. Wm. McCoy made a clean sweep of the ribbons with his string of Ayrshires.

Many Entries

The hog classes were all well filled in spite of the fact that there are few hogs in the country. Otto Klein, with his line of Chester Whites, cleaned up all the prizes. R. C. Ray, of Carstairs, made a clean up in the Jersey classes while A. B. Frisch, W. S. McKinnon of Olds, and Wm. McCoy divided the prizes for Berkshire.

Sheep Classes

A large number of farmers in the district have been going in for sheep with the result that the entries were larger than ever before. W. S. McKinnon, of Olds, and Ed. Read of Schererville, cleaned up in the Shropshire classes, while James Hughes took all the ribbons for the Oxford, John Wilson, of Inisfail, prominent livestock breeder of the province, was the presiding judge in the cattle, hog and sheep classes.

Poultry Exhibit Large

The poultry exhibit was the largest on record, there being 250 entries, as compared with 100 last year. Jack Lyons of Midnapore and J. E. Wilkison and Sons of Edmonton, both well known poultry breeders, carried off a large number of the prizes and the remainder were taken by Geo. Elkin of Olds; Thomas H. White, of Lakton; John Frame, of Olds; O. Shivy and A. B. Frisch, of Didsbury.

Messrs. Storey, Pavy and A. Hunsberger, of Didsbury, judged the grains and grasses. The crops in the district are good and the result was that some fine grain was on exhibit. The roots and vegetables on exhibit were of a high quality, while the flower exhibit surpassed anything ever shown before.

Miss McIntyre and Mrs. Weir, of Olds, judged the home products and the preserves, pickles and canned vegetable exhibits. A. McDonald, was the judge of the dairy produce, while Mrs. J. V. Borscht and Mrs. continued on page 6

P. R. Reed, acted in this capacity in the flower display.

Other exhibits were: Painting, judged by Mrs. W. Hilliard; fancy work, judged by Mrs. Scheidt; and musical training, judged by W. S. Durrer.

Racing Programme

Under the capable management of Jim Phillipson, as starter and C. Rieber, as judge, the racing program in the afternoon was run off without a hitch. Both the harness and the running races were hotly contested.

In the 2:40 trot or pace, Nigger, owned by D. Sinclair, won first; Junior, second; and Torpedo, owned by J. J. Vickery, third. The green trot or pace was won by Jim, owned by Sinclair, with Nellie, owned by Hunsperger, second, and Lena owned by Kresmann, third.

Mcadden, of Crossfield, won the free for all running, with his horse Veneto; with Fighting Frank, owned by Phillips, second; and Monarch, owned by Cresman, third.

The pony race was won by Albert John, owned by Julien, with Dick, owned by Sealey, second, and Minnie owned by Bellamy, third.

The Indians had the riding of race horses and the special races which they put on proved one of the big attractions of the program.

The half-mile foot race was won by J. J. Vickery.

Harris made no more attempts to market his wheat that winter. His wife's health now became his first consideration, but even then there had been no such problem, experience had shown that nothing was to be gained by making the long and expensive trip to Emerson. The cost of subsistence of man and team on the way devoured all the proceeds of the wheat; indeed, there were instances on record in the settlement where men who attempted such trips during the winter actually came back poorer than they left while those who could show a gain of a bag of sugar, a sack of flour, or a box of groceries were considered fortunate indeed.

"What shall we eat?" said Harris to his wife, when, after a long discussion it was decided that no more grain could be marketed until spring.

"Oh, we shall not starve," was her calm reply. "We have over five hundred bushels of wheat."

"But we can't eat wheat!"

"I'm not so sure of that. I heard Mr. McCrae say that lots of families had wintered on wheat. Indeed, boiled wheat is sometimes a delicacy. Even the best city families rarely have it, although it is more nutritious than flour and much easier to prepare."

Harris thrilled with joy over his wife's vivacity. The strange gloom that oppressed her so much of late had now been many anxious hours. "Besides," she continued, "it is well off to what some of them are. We have a good supply of vegetables, and one of the cows will milk most of the winter, and we have half a dozen laying hens. Then you will be able to shoot a rabbit now and again."

"Yes, well be all right," he agreed. "Perhaps I will get a day or two out at the lake. They say there is fine fishing all winter, and some of the springs break the ice open. And then there's always a chance to pick a deer."

So, in high spirits, they planned for their winter. There were long hours, and little diversion, and the declaration of bleak, snowbound prairies on every side, but through it all they kept up their courage and their hopefulness. Mary spent much time with her needle from which John, when he felt she was applying herself too hard, would be sure to get a check or a guinea for a game of checkers or an hour with one of their few but valued books.

To supplement their reading matter Mrs. Morrison sent over her little library, which consisted of "The Life of David Livingstone" and a bound volume of "The Gospel of the Tribulation." And there were frequent visits and long evenings spent about a cozy fire when the Morrises, or the Grants, or the Riles dropped in to while away the time. The little seed home was warm and snug, and as the men played checkers while the women sewed, what careful pioneers for the new and the cold and the wind whistling about the plains?

At last came the crisis. At four in the afternoon Harris kissed his wife an affectionate farewell, hitched his horses to the stage and started out post haste for Plainville. The sun, hanging low to the western horizon, was sending a ring of yellow and gold, bulging into two half-reflected globes at either side. A ground-drift of snow whirled lightly across the hard crust, and the north-west wind had a nip to it, but overhead the sky was clear and the blue amazingly deep. Harris drove by way of the Morrises, where a few low words sent Tom to the stable at a trot to hitch his own team, while the good wife bustled about in the "room," almost overwhelmed with the importance of her mission.

"I will go for the doctor, Jack, and you go back and take the wife with you," was Morrison's kindly offer, but Harris would not agree. It was dark by this time, and he felt that he could trust no one else to make the journey to Plainville. Besides, there was more than a chance that Dr. Blain might be incapable, and in that case it meant a drive of thirty miles farther.

"It's good of you, Morrison," he said, "but you are more used to your wife's bidding than I am, and you can be of good service there, if you will." And without waiting to answer he sprang into his sleigh again and was whipping his team into the dark night.

Dr. Blain, when at home, was to be found at the stopping-place. Harris tied his team at the door and went in, shaking the snow and frost from his

TELLS HOW CATARRH IS DESTROYED QUICKLY

Catarrh sufferers, meaning those with colds, sore throat, bronchial trouble, etc., can all be fixed up right at home by inhaling "Catarrhozone." In using Catarrhozone you don't take medicine into the stomach—you just breathe a healing piney vapor direct to the lungs and air passages. The purest balsams and the greatest antiseptics are thus sent to every spot where trouble exists—colds, etc., are killed, foul secretions are destroyed, nature is given a chance and the disease ends quickly. Colds and throat troubles can't last if the pure healing vapor of Catarrhozone is breathed—sneezing and coughing cease at once, because irritation is removed. Bronchitis, irritation and weakness in the throat soon disappear. Use Catarrhozone whether young or old. Two months treatment $10.00, small size $5.00, dealers everywhere or The Catarrhozone Co., Montreal.

great-vent. The air inside was close and stifling with tobacco, not unmingled with stronger fumes. A much-smoked oil lamp, hung by a wall-bracket, shed a certain sickly light through the smoky air, and was supplemented in its illumination by rays from the door of a capacious wood stove which stood in the center of the room, and about which half a dozen men were sitting.

"Night, Harris," said the landlord, who, with a speaking acquaintance with every settler within twenty miles, "I've driven late. You'll have a bite of supper, a stable and a team?"

"No, thank you, tonight, thank you the same. But I'm after Dr. Blain, and I'm in a hurry. Is he here, and—uh—how far?" There was an anxiety in the last words that did not escape the host.

"Nothing serious, I hope? Frost, or something?" Then, without waiting for reply, he continued: "Yes, doctor's here, upstairs, but to the right, as you go. Just get in a little back. As for dig 'im out an' judge for yourself."

Harris lost no time in scaling the ladder which led to the upper half-story of the building. It was a parrot—nothing better—where the cold stars looked through knot-holes in the poplar shingles, and the ends of the shingle-shafts were tipped with frost. Another wall-lamp burned uncertainly, here, flickering in the wind that whistled through the cracks in the gables, and by its light Harris found "the bed to the right. The form of a man lay diagonally across its face, downwards, with arms extended above the head, and so still that Harris paused for a moment in a strange alarm. Then he slipped his hand on the doctor's neck and found it warm.

"Come, Doc," he said, "I want you with me!" "I want you with me!" he answered with not so much as a groan.

"Come, Dr. Blain," Harris repeated, shaking him soundly. "I want you to go home with me. He might have been shaking to the death."

In sudden exasperation he seized the doctor by the shoulders, and with one sweep of his mighty arms set him upright on the floor and shook him vigorously.

Dr. Blain opened his eyes and blinked uneasily at the light. "Whatche doing, Harris?" he said at length, and confusion lighted up his face.

"Snooze," he said. "Gotta sleep it off. Snooze, Harris. Snooze!" and he closed his eyes in a bed.

But Harris was desperate. "Now, I'm not going to fool with you!" he said. "I want you to come with me, or I'll kick you. Which is it?"

But the doctor only mumbled "Snooze," and he fell heavily to sleep. Throwing up his coat to get free motion for his arms, Harris in a moment wrapped the sleeping man in a couple of blankets from the bed, threw him over his shoulder, carried him down the rickety ladder, and deposited him, some two feet, in the sleigh. There was a mild cheer from the men about the stove over these heroic measures, and one of them thoughtfully threw the doctor's hat into the sleigh. The next moment all was lost in the darkness.

Harris drove for an hour, watching the trail keenly in the whitish mist of the snow's light, and steering the horses to the limit of their exertions. He had almost forgotten his passengers when he felt a stir in the bottom of the sleigh. Looking down closely he found the doctor trying to creep back from one end of his pockets. With a quick wrench he took it from him, and would have thrown it into the snow, but the doctor struck him that it might be needed, and he put it into his own pocket.

The doctor struggled to his feet. "Snooze, Harris, you're fond of mine, but don't take too many liberties, yer! Snooze yer! Without it, I just give me that bottle, now, or I'll get out and go home."

Harris was so pleased at the signs of returning coherence that he could have hugged the doctor, but he only said: "You've had enough for tonight, and you won't get out, because if you try to I'll knock you senseless in the bottom of the sleigh."

Then the doctor changed his tactics. He threw his arms about Harris's neck, and genuine tears coursed down his cheeks.

"Say, Harris, you don't know anything about it. You don't know what I'm up against. Just rest in from Walopla today, and I'll see you."

cloth off for week. "Is right! I tell you, Harris, you don't know." "Oh, I know I'm a fool—yes, don't tell me. But I'll engineer knows it too when he does don't shifty value!" "I make th' grade. Dosh it jush th' same. Thash jush like me. Come on, Harris, hand it over. I got 'em have it, or I can't make the grade."

"Well, you'll make the grade first tonight," said Harris.

"After that the doctor remained silent for some time. Then suddenly he demanded: "Shay, Harris, where you takin' me to, anyway?"

"I'm taking you home."

"Home? What home? I got no home jush."

"I'm taking you to my home."

"Wha' for? You're all right, I guess I don't know. I know the road I'm going to. Suddenly the doctor stood erect.

"Harris, is your wife sick?"

"That's why I came for you."

"Well, why the devil didn't you say so? Here, give me that whip. Harris, Harris, what did you waste time arguing for?"

"I didn't waste much. The argument was mostly on your side."

"I'm all right now. But I'll get me again as soon as this is over. Any good I am, any good I do, is made in the last quarter of the wreck. The wreck—yes, it's a good word that—wreck?"

"Just as the dawn was breaking he knelt beside her. Her eyes were very large and quiet, and her face was white and still. But she raised one pale hand and the thin fingers were folded in his hair. She drew his face very gently down, and slow silent tears stood in his eyes."

"We will call him Allan," he said. (To be continued)

Turning The Corner

Indications Point to Return of Normal Business Conditions

"Orders are coming in steadily and in increasing numbers," says A. E. Staley, of Decatur.

"We have unquestionably passed the worst," said E. H. Gary, head of the United States Steel corporation, in commenting on the poor showing made in the last quarter's report of the profits of that business.

Textile mills are beginning to run steadily in the south and east. One great cotton mill in Massachusetts cut its spring fabric samples on view one day last week, and within three days the output of the mill for the entire season was taken by the wholesalers.

The signs are now really right. Feels like optimism is one of the most potent of all business mistakes. The man who feels himself is the most badly fooled man in the list. But with a sobriety of values which has come within the last few weeks, there has come also the sounder business foundations, the higher productivity of labor, the more careful and efficient management of affairs, so that the forward step which is taken now will be held. Gains now made are real, not imaginary or visionary, and they will be made greater as conditions continue to improve.

Indications are multiplying that the country is far from back to the normal business prosperity, the upturn is gradually being made.—The Decatur Review.

Children Cry for Fletcher's

CASTORIA

Fletcher's Castoria is strictly a remedy for Infants and Children. Foods are specially prepared for babies. A baby's medicine is even more essential for Baby. Remedies primarily prepared for grown-ups are not interchangeable. It was the need of a remedy for the common ailments of Infants and Children that brought Castoria before the public after years of research, and no claim has been made for it that its use for over 30 years has not proven.

What is CASTORIA?

Castoria is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drops and Soothing Syrups. It is pleasant, it contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other narcotic substance. Its age is its guarantee. For more than thirty years it has been in constant use for the relief of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic and Diarrhoea; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aids the assimilation of Food; giving healthy and natural sleep. CHECK YOUR BOWEL TROUBLES BY USING DR. FOWLER'S EXTRACT OF WILD STRAWBERRY

When you are troubled with diarrhoea, dysentery, colic, cramps and pains in the stomach, cholera, cholera morbus, summer complaint, bloody fluxes, or any looseness of the bowels, be sure and obtain a bottle of Dr. Fowler's and see how quickly it gives you relief. This wonderful remedy has been on the market for the past 70 years and we wish to warn you against accepting a substitute which may be dangerous to your health.

Mr. Samuel Buckler, Tatamagouche, N.S., writes: "While visiting in Western Canada I was attacked with diarrhoea. After trying many proprietary medicines I got no relief but kept getting worse. I was advised to take Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry, and I lost no time in doing so. I cannot hesitate in recommending it most highly, for when I had not yet taken half the bottle I was relieved. I must say that if Dr. Fowler's is given a fair trial it will show its good qualities."

The price of the genuine is 50c a bottle; put up only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Live Stock Industry

Want Action Taken to Secure Market in U.S.

C. W. Peterson, western editor and rancher, suggests the formation of a Canadian pool consisting of government representatives, bankers, breeders, and capitalists to form an effective line of defence in view of the present condition of the live stock industry in Western Canada. He urged that immediate diplomatic negotiations be opened with the United States to procure for Canada free entry for animals and animal products, pleading that even an unlimited overseas market could not be compared with free access to the Chicago market. He believed that if the situation were placed before the Canadian public and they were appealed to there would be no trouble in subscribing $100,000,000 for the pool.

A Woman Homesteader

City Girl Makes a Success of Farming in Western Canada

Another name added to the list of women who are successfully operating farms in Western Canada is that of May V. Hazlett, an English girl who for four years has lived alone on a homestead in the Touchwood Hills, and made it pay. Her brother, who homesteaded the land, was killed in the Canadian forces at Vimy Ridge, and Miss Hazlett, who was working as a stenographer, and tired of the eternal pounding, determined to go contrary to the advice to sell the farm and though she had never lived in the country, decided to operate it herself. Success has attended her efforts and she now owns several head of horses, a fine bunch of cattle, and has more than one hundred acres under cultivation. She is again reversing the order of things as having built a Western home she is returning to England to marry her fiancé and bring him out to the Saskatchewan farm. She is an ardent advocate of homesteads for women.

Probably the two most awkward things in the world are a woman following a stone and a bachelor holding a baby.

PAINFUL NEURALGIA

TORTURING SCIATICA

Both Come From The Same Cause—Thin, Watery Blood

Most people think of neuralgia as a pain in the head or face, but neuralgia may affect any nerve in the body. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are given to it when it affects certain nerves. Thus neuralgia of the sciatic nerve is called sciatica, but the character of the pain and the nature of the disease are the same. The pain in neuralgia is caused by starved nerves. The blood which carries nourishment to the nerves has become thin and impure and no longer does so, and the pain you feel is the cry of the nerves for their natural food. You may ease the pains of neuralgia with hot applications, but real relief from the trouble comes by enriching and purifying the blood. For this purpose, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are strongly recommended. These pills make new, rich blood and thus act as a tonic for the whole body. If you are suffering from this most dreaded of troubles, or any form of nerve trouble, give these pills a fair trial and you will find comfort that follows their use.

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills from any medicine dealer, or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The presence of this remedy in the family medicine chest saves many a fee.

A Cape Coat For Early Fall Days

By Marie Belmont.

The popularity of the cape is not likely to pass with the summer months. Its pleasing qualities are so much appreciated that there will be many interpretations of it for fall wear. This delightful coat, cut from a heavy silk crepe in a rich shade of brown, is designed with a spreading cape. It is lined with gold, which is revealed when the cape is flung backward. The sleeves are cut wide at the wrist and are trimmed with braid. This is also used for the crush collar that is set rather high about the neck. A brown velvet belt with small flowers made of golden ribbon completes the costume.

Car Owners--Attention!

I have lately bought out the

VULCANIZING

Business of Mr. Talbot, at present located in Adhead's Garage. The plant will be moved this week to my new location, four doors north, and will be known as the

DIDSBURY VULCANIZING SHOP

A Full Line of First-Class Tires & Tubes

will be carried in stock as well as TIRE AND TUBE ACCESSORIES. I also offer motorists of this district repairs at REASONABLE RATES. Your repair work and new tire business is respectfully solicited. In connection with my new plant I will have a

FREE AIR SERVICE

which will be ready at all hours, day or night.

There are at present a number of tires and tubes which have been repaired some time and are waiting claimants. If one of yours happens to be here, try to call for it as soon as possible.

Come in, anyway, and let's get acquainted.
